
INSTRUCTIONS FOR FILING AN APPEAL

Follow these instructions to file your appeal.

There are two types of appeals:

1. Standard Appeal: If you ask for a standard appeal, Salt Lake County Division of Behavioral Health Services (DBHS) will make a decision on your appeal within 30 calendar days from the date we get your appeal.
2. Expedited (quick) Appeal: If you, your legally authorized representative or your provider believes that taking the standard amount of time (up to 30 days) to make a decision on your appeal could place your life or health in danger, or that you might have a permanent setback, you can ask for an expedited (quick) appeal.

If DBHS agrees they need to make a quick decision on your appeal, they will make a decision in 3 working days from the date they get your quick appeal request.

If they do not agree they need to make a quick decision on your appeal, they will call you to let you know. They will also send you a letter within 2 days telling you that.

In either case, sometimes DBHS might need more time to make a decision on your appeal. Also, you may ask them to take more time. If so, they can take up to 14 more calendar days to make their decision on the appeal. If they need extra time, they will send you a letter telling you that.

WHEN TO FILE YOUR APPEAL

You must file your appeal within 60 days from the date on the Notice of Adverse Benefit Determination letter that you received from your provider.

WHO CAN FILE YOUR APPEAL

You, or your legally authorized representative may file your appeal.
